

Emperor Constantine I, The Great, Ancient Roman Bronze Coin, 307-337

Starting Bid $40.00

Retail Value $150.00

1 Available

Donated by Bruce Sonnenberg

The Emperor Constantine I, also known as Constantine the Great, is commemorated on this ancient Roman coin minted between 307 and 337 A.D. at the Antioch mint.

The obverse side of the coin showcases a rosette-diademed bust of Constantine, facing right. He is depicted wearing drapery and cuirass, symbolizing his status as both a civilian and military leader. The inscription "CONSTANTINVS MAX AVG" accompanies the image, signifying Constantine's title as emperor.

On the reverse side, the coin depicts the inscription "GLORIA EXERCITVS," which translates to "Glory of the Army." It features two soldiers standing on either side of two standards, representing the might and power of the Roman military. The mintmark "SMANA" denotes the coin's origin from the Antioch mint.

This ancient Roman coin serves as a tangible artifact from the era of Emperor Constantine the Great, an influential figure in Roman history. Its remarkable preservation, detailed design, and historical significance make it a valuable piece among collectors and enthusiasts of ancient numismatics, providing a glimpse into the reign of one of Rome's most prominent emperors.