Duke's Beach House honors renowned waterman and Hawaii's most famous son, Duke Kahanamoku. He was an Olympic swimmer and the father of modern day surfing but he may be best known for sharing his genuine spirit of Aloha. Here just steps from the sand, you are treated to sweeping views of the Pacific framed by the islands of Molokai and Lanai along with a casual, nostalgic ambiance and a glimpse into the life of our namesake, Duke.

Drop into our Barefoot Bar and enjoy a casual experience with thirst-quenching tropical cocktails and island favorites or enjoy Hawaiian-style dining at its finest with a selection of fresh fish and steak in our Dining Room.
