It was a well-intentioned and innocent idea. It seemed that most boutiques on Maui back in 2006 were beyond reach for the thousands of women who live and work on the island, Mahina's co-founders Jody and Joe thought a boutique that sold stylish clothing at more affordable prices may meet their needs. They didn't imagine that Mahina would not only become a local favorite but that visitors would also flock to their stores. And since that first store opened in Paia, on Maui's north shore, Mahina has grown to a 16-store chain on Maui, Oahu, Kauai and the Big Island.
