Jacques Quillery, is a French artist residing in Costa Rica since 1968. Born in North Africa on July 31st, 1950, and educated in France, during his childhood he developed a passion for art – especially for painting. As part of his apprenticeship, he has had the opportunity to visit the majority of the classic art museums of France and Italy. As a youngster, Jacques became a passionate devotee of Impressionism and Fauvism as well an enthusiast of the works of Nicolas de Stael, Soutine and Derain; who is still today a source of inspiration and admiration.
