Las Vegas is a place where lights blaze into the sky and stage shows defy gravity, but it's not all casinos and nightlife. It may be famous as a playground for grownups, but there's plenty of fun for families, too.

Think of our Desert Club Resort, just a block from world-famous Las Vegas Boulevard, as your home base for exploring the sights with (or without) the kids. After an exciting day on the Strip—or a family road trip to the Hoover Dam and Grand Canyon—there’s nothing like lounging poolside as the lights of the High Roller® Observation Wheel slowly turn overhead.

From seeing the Strip and Las Vegas attractions to relaxing by the pool and more, you’ll find tons of things to do for families and friends in the Entertainment Capital of the World.

Let this group of friends show you what fun’s
