My name is Malie Haubrige: I am a 19-year-old college student, seeking to follow God's plan and direction for my life. I'm passionate about people, sharing and learning the inner workings of one's mind and true emotion. Painting is something I often return to and love connecting with others over. I have a more "ego-with-the-flow" style, and constantly improvise. I love bold colors, as well as pastels, but I cherish the complexity of simple things that art exhibits. I love all things expressionâ€“ but most of all, I love God and all his creations.
