Willamette Valley, OR

Also known as Oregon Wine Country, Willamette Valley is a prominent tourist destination for wine lovers, with more than 700 wineries. The area is especially known for its Pinot noir wines, and many visitors come to the Valley specifically for wine tastings. In addition to the wineries, there are also many fine dining restaurants in the area. With such a renowned farming community, many of the restaurants and wineries offer farm to table dining experiences. Willamette Valley also offers an array of outdoor activities. Golfing, cycling, kayaking, skiing, rafting, windsurfing, or just about anything imaginable can be enjoyed. So whether you're looking for a relaxing getaway or an action-packed vacation, Willamette Valley has it all.
