Where translucent moments in each piece allows the owner's wall color (or chosen matting color) to contribute to the work, becoming the overall background for the piece and allowing the art to integrate into their display space.

The Artist is inspired by the movement and turbulence of water. His paintings are designed to energize the environment that they are displayed in with exuberance and activity, creating an emotional connection to color.

The mediums used are toxic-free pigments layered on clear acrylic panels to celebrate translucency and allow light to participate - Evoking the feeling of stained glass.
