Small - 12 inch butterfly Inspired by using different types of exotic wood for the butterfly wings. After retiring, Bonnie finally had the time to spend rekindling her desire to do different arts and crafts. She found her niche with woodworking. The textures and colors of wood inspire her creativity. Then along came the addition of adding resin with her woodworking. Working with two different mediums is always exciting because the results can vary from project to project. It makes her look at things differently.
