Large - 40 inch butterfly Kay is inspired by the shapes and colors I see in the nature and designs from the retro perspective. Born in Seoul, Korea, K. Nari was surrounded and immersed by art creation and expression from the earliest stages of her life. K. Nari's mother was a self-taught artist and talented seamstress in Seoul, her love for art became an integral and influential part of her daughter's life. Early on K. Nari attended classes at an art school in Korea, further ingraining the fundamental art bases she would later reference in her artistic career; there she learned about still life, traditional landscapes and figure drawings. As an independent artist, K. Nari spends her days in her studio creating paintings that concentrate on movements with varying layers of emotions,â€¦
