Throughout her childhood Jacque was a student at the Toledo Museum of Art's Youth Studies Program. Jacque began painting professionally in the early 1980's after attending the University of Toledo and Arizona State University's School of Art. She began as a muralist and specializes in animal eyes, animal portraiture, trompe l'oeil, and commissioned artwork. One of Jacque's goals is image diversity, "Each painting has its own lessons for me. I am an explorer of color and form; you will see everything from portraiture to non-representational work. I need diversity in painting as in life. I want the viewer to think, to smile, to enjoyâ€â€  Jacque
